

Public Domain & Democracy in the Digital Age

International Conference

18-19
September
2014

Information in the public domain is about freedom of access and use. Essential for the right to information, public domain is functional to our understanding of contemporary democracy. It is a precondition for a well-functioning political life – but how this occurs is unclear

UPPSALA
UNIVERSITET

Philosophy Department
Uppsala University

KUSKO Uppsala University
Kunskapssamhällen

INSTITUTET FÖR RÄTTSSINFORMATIK

IRI

Edward Cassels Stiftelse

Forum for Advanced Studies in SALT
Arts, Languages and Theology

Wenner-Gren Foundations

Thursday, September 18

Access & Usage: Public Domain and the Right to Information

Chair: Patricia Mindus (Uppsala)

14-15.00 Judith Simon (Copenhagen)

Accessing & Using Big Data: Epistemic, Ethical & Political Implications

15-16.00 Peter Dahlgren (Lund)

Public Domain and the Privatized Web: Power Relations and the Logics of Democratic Participation

16.30-17.30 Bert-Jaap Koops (Tilburg)

Protecting the Private Sphere When the Public/Private Distinction Collapses

17.30-18.30 Mireille Hildebrandt (Brussels)

Open Data & Big Data: Politics and Economics of Big Data Sharing

Friday, September 19

Design: The Expansion of Public Domain

Chair: Marco Goldoni (Glasgow/CELAPA)

9-10.00 Kristofer Erickson (Glasgow/Create)

How Can Policymakers Place a Value on the Public Domain? Let Us Count the Ways

10-11.00 Ahit Saarenpää (Laapland)

Access Rights and Democracy

11.30-12.30 Sebastian Haunss (Bremen)

Social Movements and the Politicization of Intellectual Property Claims

Governance of Transparency: Public Domain and the Government

Chair: Cecilia Magnusson Sjöberg (IRI, Stockholm)

13.30-14.30 Key Note Address

Luciano Floridi (Oxford)

National Government's Data as a Public Resource

14.30-15.30 Inger Österdahl (Uppsala)
Between 250 Years of Free Information and 20 years of EU and Internet

16-17.00 Dag Wiese Schartum (Oslo)

Automation and Legislation: Should the Democratic Process be Renewed?

17-18.00 Ben Wagner (Berlin)

Internet Governance and Freedom of Expression

VENUE

Uppsala University
Main Building Aula VIII

CONTACT

Patricia Mindus
Per Algander

WEB

www.filosofi.uu.se/Konferenser+och+workshops/2014/public-domain/

Admission free! Please register by e-mail to Per.Algander@filosofi.uu.se